Getting started

What is Soffid Break glass?

It refers to a mechanism that allows users to gain emergency access to critical systems or information under exceptional circumstances when normal access procedures are not viable.

Break glass is a crucial component of security and emergency planning, providing a balance between stringent access controls and the need for urgent access during critical situations.

Revision #3
Created 24 July 2024 08:23:30
Updated 25 July 2024 12:38:03